DiSalle Plans To Push Fight On Labor Law

Says Reform Action Would Be Aimed At Undesired Leaders

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he will continue his fight to get the Legislature to pass a state labor reform law.

Speaking to a predominantly union audience at a Labor Day celebration here Monday, DiSalle said reform legislation is aimed "at the men who will sell labor down the river, the men who will steal from your welfare funds."

The governor said organized labor has best illustrated the need for labor reform legislation by its expulsion of leaders it felt were corrupt.

"The AFL-CIO saw fit to throw out Hoffa," he declared.

James R. Hoffa is president of the Teamsters Union, which was expelled by the AFL-CIO National Council two years ago.

Leo Dugan, executive secretary of the Akron Labor Council, heard DiSalle's remarks, then followed him to the platform with a fiery speech.

"I reserve the right to give my own opinions on labor reform legislation," said Dugan, who also is a vice president of the Ohio AFL-CIO. "When we in labor speak of labor reform we mean reform for labor and management," he asserted.

"The people have been brainwashed against labor," Dugan added.

Quemoys Hit Again

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Communist fired 173 shells at the Quemoys Islands on odd-numbered Monday. Then they lapsed into an even-numbered day silence today, the Nationalist Defense Ministry reported. The Monday attack was the heaviest in almost 2½ months.

5,000 Attend 'Jaycee Day' At Wellsville

Crowning of a blue-eyed blonde as "Miss Jaycee of 1960" capped the second annual "Jaycee Day" celebration of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday.

An estimated 5,000 attended the various events, including some 3,500 who lined Main St. for the parade in the evening.

Miss Joyce Thompson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thompson, 1124 Hillcrest Rd., succeeded Miss Anna Mae Ring as winner of the beauty contest.

The contest—watched by a crowd of about 400 in Beacom Memorial Gymnasium—highlighted the day-long Labor Day celebration which included a parade, baby contest and games for children during a family picnic at Hammond Park.

A JUNIOR student at Wellsville High School, the new queen was presented a silver watch and flowers during the crowning ceremony conducted by Ralph Fusco, chairman.

Runners-up included Miss Faye

Three other contractors signed earlier and the men resumed work. Workers received a 15-cent hourly pay increase under the interim agreement. The Foster - Wheeler Corp. of New York is the contractor on the power plant project. The local has about 750 members.

Soviet Veto Brushed Off In Laos Case

U.N. Security Unit Sets Up Group To Study 'Aggression'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council brushed aside an attempted Soviet veto today and set up a four-nation subcommittee to look into Laos' charges of Communist aggression.

The 11-nation council put Argentina, Italy, Japan and Tunisia on the subcommittee by a 10-1 vote for a resolution sponsored by Britain, France and the United States. The three sponsors are members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, which has declared Laos in its defensive area.

The vote came five minutes after midnight toward the end of an emergency session that began on Labor Day afternoon and stretched through eight hours of talk and a dinner break.

Delegates expressed hope the subcommittee would go quickly to Laos and bring back the facts as a basis for possible further action. Koto Matsudaira of Japan expressed belief it would serve as a "United Nations presence" in the area and would ease tension.

Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States, introducing the resolution, said it was the least the council could do for Laos. In a veiled reference to possible SEATO intervention, he said alternative actions, if they became necessary, might be "much more dangerous." He said "The United States believes there is no doubt at all that aggression is being committed."

But the resolution did not mention Laos' accusations that Communist North Viet Nam is guilty of aggression and is providing troops, supplies and artillery support to Laotian rebels. Nor did it mention Laos' request for U. N. emergency force.

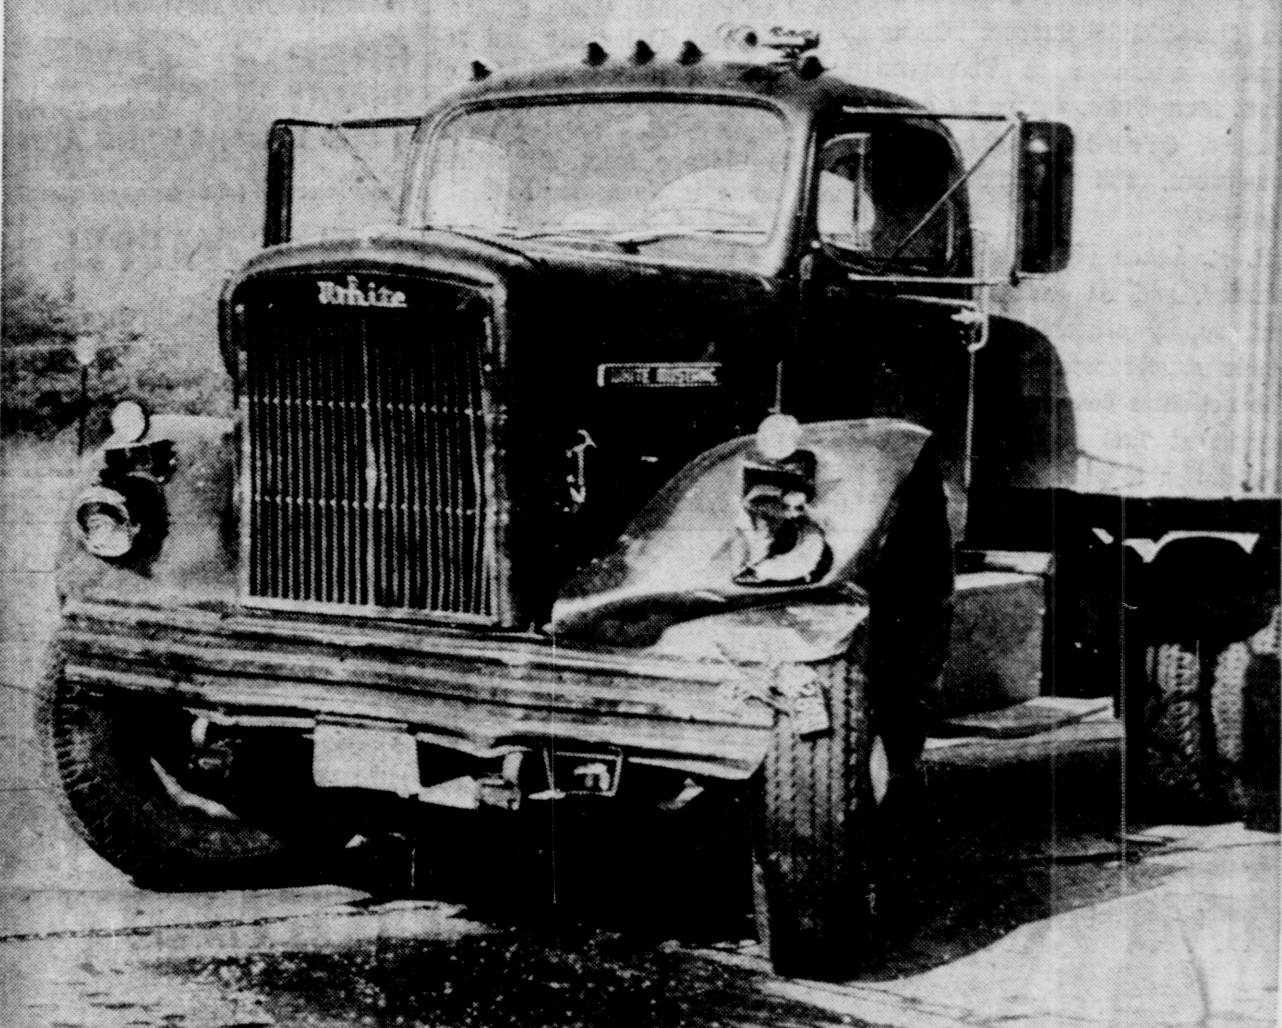

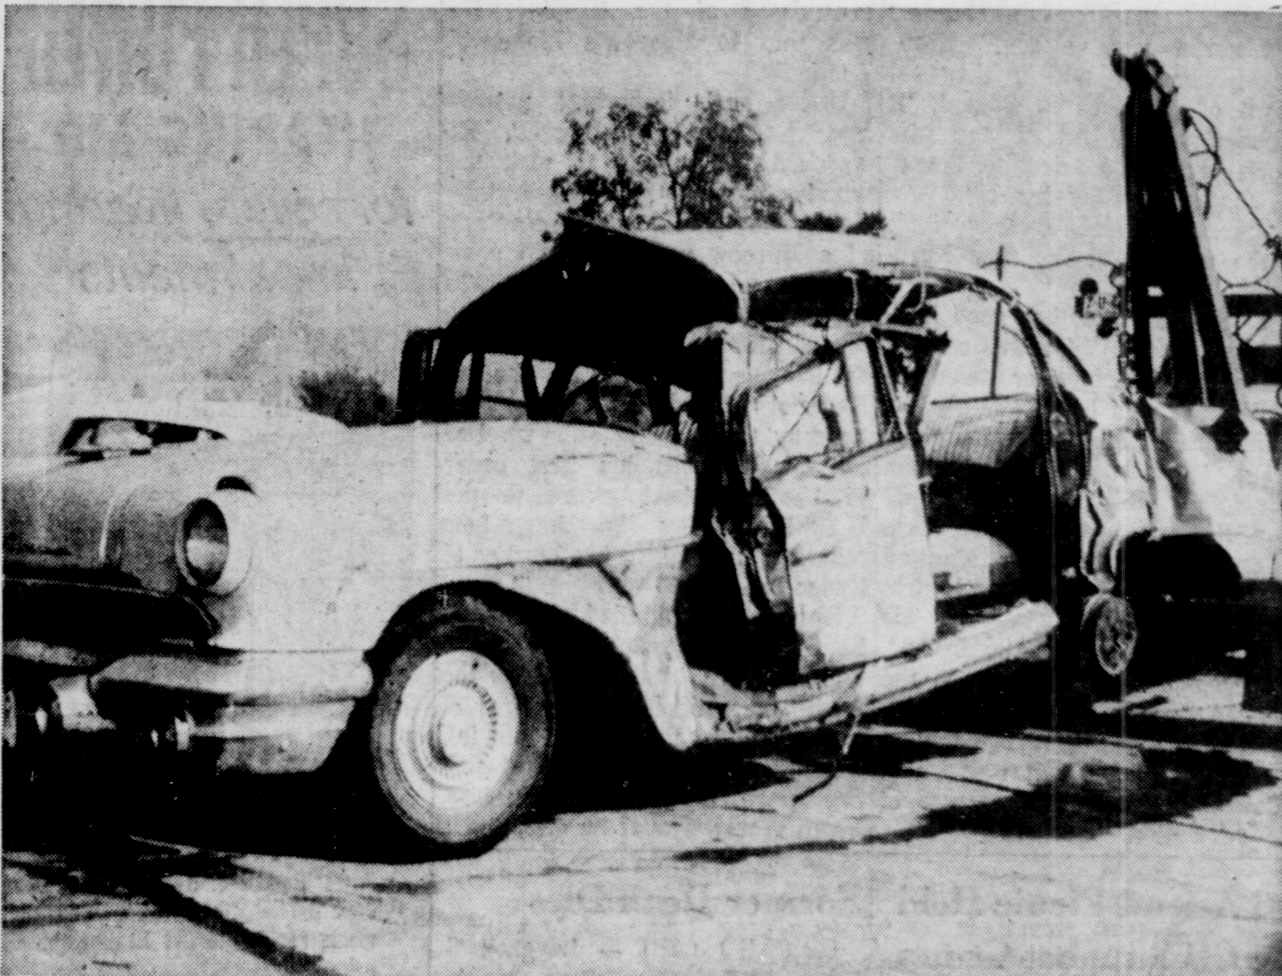

It simply instructed the subcommittee "to examine the statements made before the Security Council concerning Laos, to receive further statements and documents and to conduct such inquiries as it may determine necessary and to report as soon as possible."

Red-Led Units Mass Around Base In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Communist-led troops are massing in three areas around Sam Neua town in what could be staging operations for a three-pronged attack on that mountain-ringed stronghold, a government spokesman said today.

Red detachments were reported north, northwest and southeast of Sam Neua, defense headquarters of northern Laos.

The royal Laotian army Monday received its first shipment of rifle ammunition and grenades under a stepped-up program of American aid.

WRECK IN WHICH 3 DIED. Two City Hospital nurses—Miss Violet Radle and Miss Margaret Jarvis—and Mrs. Katherine Crook were killed this morning when their car and a tractor-trailer rig collided during fog at the intersection of Routes 7 and 213, about 2 miles south of Wellsville. Another woman was injured badly when the auto driver apparently pulled from Route 213 into the path of the southbound rig driven by Willie Joe Rewis of Alliance, authorities said.

Housing Bill Accord Set By Legislators

Agreement Erases One Of Big Bars To Early Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic-Republican agreement on the terms of a new housing bill removed one of the major barriers today to an early adjournment of Congress.

But several other issues, including controversial civil rights proposals, remained as stumbling blocks to any speedy final disposal of legislative business.

A House vote today could send to the Senate a pared-down public works bill in a form still re-

Steel Walkout Now Longest Of Its Type

NEW YORK (AP)—The nationwide steel strike became the longest of its kind in the country's history today—without the faintest glimmer of hope for a settlement soon.

The walkout of 500,000 steelworkers union members, shutting down mills accounting for 87 per cent of the nation's basic steel production, entered its 56th day at 12:01 a.m.

A similar strike totaled 59 days in 1952 but its continuity was interrupted by government intervention. The longest segment was 55 days. In other years there have been longer walkouts against individual firms.

Traffic Deaths Soar Toward New Record

422 Victims Listed Already In U.S. On Labor Day Weekend

Traffic 422
Boating 26
Non-boating drownings 52
Miscellaneous 85
Total 584

By The Associated Press

The number of dead from traffic accidents this Labor Day weekend moved past last year's figure early today.

The National Safety Council had predicted the 1958 figure of 420 dead in automobile mishaps would be exceeded. It forecast 450 dead during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to last midnight, local time.

With the slowly rising death toll, the council again warned that the all-time high of 461 dead—set in the Labor Day weekend in 1951—was perilously close. In that holiday 658 persons died from accidents of all causes.

The Associated Press surveyed the Aug. 21-24 weekend, a non-holiday period, for comparative purposes. The survey showed 307 dead in traffic accidents, 15 in boating mishaps, 71 in non-boating drownings, 76 dead from miscellaneous causes. The test period total dead was 469.

This last Fourth of July holiday, there were 276 dead in traffic, 60 boating accidents, 119 drownings and 65 from miscellaneous causes.

Metal-Lined Clothes Seen Future Fashions

YORK, England (AP)—Metal-lined clothes for men and women were forecast here as future fashion by textile expert Howard Rees who unrolled a shimmering length of newly developed aluminum foil cloth before the British Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

The foil one-quarter of one-thousandth of an inch thick, is coated on one side of the cloth. "With the metal side inward you should keep warm," Rees said. "Reversed you would keep cool."

Two Nurses Are Among Auto Victims

4th Woman Remains Critical In Wreck Near Yellow Creek

A car-truck crash at the intersection of Routes 7 and 213 below Yellow Creek about 8:45 a. m. today claimed the lives of two City Hospital nurses and another woman and seriously injured a fourth.

Killed instantly in the collision was Miss Violet Radle, 45, of Irondale R. D. 1. Miss Margaret Jarvis, 38, also of Irondale R. D. 1, died at 11:10 a. m. at the hospital and Mrs. Katherine Crook, 63, of Hammondsville expired shortly before noon.

Seriously injured was Mrs. Lula Boehm also of Hammondsville who received back injuries. She was listed in "critical" condition.

Miss Radle was thrown from the car by the impact. She was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the women were in a car struck by a loaded tractor-trailer truck driven by Willie Joe Rewis, 58, of Alliance.

Rewis was carrying a load of scrap paper from Alliance to Steubenville. He told the officer the car had stopped at the intersection and then pulled from Route 213 into his path. There was a slight fog, he told the patrol.

Rewis said he swerved in an attempt to miss the car but caught it broadside on the left. The impact pushed the car about 50 feet down the four-lane highway. Rewis said he was traveling about 30-35 miles an hour.

The impact, ripped open the car. The front of the truck was damaged. Miss Radle is thought to have been the driver. She and Miss Jarvis were co-owners of the car.

The truck rig is owned by Joe Krash of Alliance.

The four—all members of the Hammondsville Methodist Church—were en route to religious service today at an Akron mission, with the trip sponsored locally by the Community Rescue Mission of East Liverpool.

Wellsville police remained on standby at the scene.

'Masquerade' Used To Make Chester Theft

The mysterious "Juanita" who entered a Chester home Friday night while the owner was absent, taking a pair of shoes and some costume jewelry, turned out to be a 15-year-old East Liverpool boy masquerading as a female who was taken into custody by East Liverpool police Sunday night at the Bus Terminal.

The youth was placed in detention at the County Jail at Lisbon this morning, following continuation of a Juvenile Court hearing. Judge Louis Tobin said efforts may be made to admit him to the Juvenile Diagnostic Center.

Police said the boy was in female attire when arrested Sunday night. He was accused of being the mysterious "Juanita" who entered the home of Mrs. F. A. Hissam of Carolina Ave., Chester, Friday night. The boy is tall and has a fair complexion and long, dark hair.

Mrs. William Mountjoy, a neighbor of Mrs. Hissam, said the caller rang the door bell at the Hissam home, then was told Mrs. Hissam was away.

"That's all right; I'll go in and wait for her," the caller replied. About 15 minutes later the visitor left, taking a pair of white shoes and some costume jewelry. When Mrs. Hissam returned, she found her bedroom had been ransacked.

As the caller left the Hissam home, he told Mrs. Mountjoy: "Tell her Juanita was here."

Local Union No. 22, Mould Makers will vote on pension referendum plan tonight. Polls will be open from 7-9 p. m. All members urged to vote meeting night. By order of Pres.—Ad.

Happy Home Life Helps Education

Should you always assume your child's teacher is right? How much should you help on homework? Are intelligence tests really important? What if your son fails at college? ... Practical answers to scores of practical questions such as these are supplied by a famous educator-writer and his wife, themselves the parents of four, in the series starting below. Fourteen other articles will follow.

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE AND LILLIAN FINE
"You didn't like school?" a sports columnist asked Rocky Graziano.

"Naw," snorted Rocky, "I hated it! I played hooky all the time."

"And your children like school?" the interviewer asked a little later.

"Oh sure," said Rocky, "They're crazy about it. They'd better. I'd kill 'em if they start foolin' around!"

Basically most parents tend to feel pretty much the way Rocky does: we wasted many educational opportunities and don't want our children to make the mistakes we did.

How can we help them? Most children who take an interest in school are children whose families have convinced them schoolwork is worthwhile.

Just by showing an interest you can greatly encourage effort. Of course, the interest must be genuine; most children are quick to detect pretense and condescension. And it is not about an 8-year-old's progress in reading or multiplication.

Long before children start school, parents can do much that will encourage educational success. A happy home life is the greatest gift any child can receive. A pleasant, serene atmosphere, love—these are the priceless ingredients that give him security. With that kind of a background children can concentrate on their schoolwork.

Another factor is the presence of cultural interests in the home. Parents who love to read and who read to their children seldom complain that "Johnny can't read." When a family spends most of its leisure on television, children are not likely to feel a great desire to learn to read.

Besides exposure to the printed word, children need to hear good music, to look at fine paintings, to take exploratory walks. They

The All-Russian Boy?

'Big Show' Expected From Mr. K

Six years ago William L. Ryan was one of the first specialists in Soviet affairs to predict that Nikita Khrushchev was on the way to taking over command in the Soviet Union. He has seen Khrushchev at close hand, in Moscow and abroad, and followed his career closely. In five articles, of which this is the first, Ryan appraises the man who comes calling on President Eisenhower next week.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Analyst

As a boy, Nikita Khrushchev was good to his mother. He attended Sunday school at the local church and recited the gospels from memory. He was a cracking good halfback at soccer. In short, he was Nikita Khrushchev: All-Russian boy.

This is the picture of Khrushchev now emerging from his own and thousands of other words pouring from Moscow press and radio in English and other languages, in advance of his visit to the United States.

The round little man with the steely cold blue eyes will appear before Americans as the new Khrushchev, 1959 model. The advance billing portrays the Soviet premier as anything but a sinister leader of a world conspiracy using the name communism. On the contrary, it makes him the prototype of all success story heroes who worked their way to the top through patience, fortitude and honest toil.

The man coming to America next week likely will be the warm, the bubbling, gay, humanity loving Khrushchev, to all appearances thinking only in terms of peace and love for mankind.

He intends to impress Americans and the world.

He probably will put on a great show.

In Moscow, Khrushchev is presented as a model Soviet citizen, father to four fine children, grandfather to three, devoted to his motherly second wife, Nina, who reared his family. All this purports to be the story of a brilliant success well earned.

Khrushchev's life has, indeed, been a success story—Communist style. He rose to the top by clawing his way up over a heap of corpses and discards.

Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev was born April 17, 1894. His father, Sergei, probably owned a tiny plot of land around the mud-reed hovel near Kalinovka which was Nikita's birthplace. Russia was not, as Khrushchev now insists, capitalist. It was feudal under the tsarist monarchy. Khrushchev's father worked in the coal mines near the Ukrainian border.

"When I was a boy," Khrushchev recently told a skeptical crowd of Catholics in Poland, "I attended church school and won a prize from the priest for knowing the gospels by heart."

Later, he added another tidbit in the making of the new Khrushchev.

"I was once a rather good halfback at soccer. That was not an exclusively offensive or defensive position. It was both."

Khrushchev was what Russians call a "sposobny chelovek"—an able fellow. He had the physique of a Russian bear, a vast store of energy, a talent for blaming his mistakes on others and turning defeat into victory. But his beginnings were undistinguished.

Khrushchev had no part in the Russian revolution. Not until 1918 did he join the Bolshevik party at the outset of the civil war which followed the Bolshevik seizure of the revolution.

Later, he commanded a battalion fighting White Russian forces. It was wiped out, but he escaped blame and became a political commissar for a guerrilla detachment.

Khrushchev got his first chance for formal schooling at 27, when he was sent to a "rabfak"—workers' faculty—school in Khar'kov in the Ukraine. After a series of minor party jobs, he attracted the attention of Lazar Moiseyevich Kaganovich, then the dreaded iron commissar of the Ukraine. He was sent to Moscow's Industrial Academy.

Under such important patronage, Khrushchev prospered. He was shrewd enough to pick the winning side in the Stalin-Trotsky fight, and by 1931 was secretary of a Moscow party regional committee and member of the All-Union Central Committee. He toured industrial areas to root out Stalin's enemies, then helped Kaganovich marshal labor for building the Moscow subway. For all this he won his first order of Lenin, highest award in the U.S.S.R. Today he has four others, plus a glittering display of lesser medals.

Khrushchev applied his bull-like vigor to bossing the Ukraine and serving Stalin during the frightful political blood purges of the mid-1930s. He vaulted into full membership in the powerful palace guard, the Politburo, by 1938. From World War II he emerged a political lieutenant general, concerned at least as much with party control in the army as with winning the war.

By the eve of Stalin's death in early 1953, Khrushchev was a highly influential politician.

But until his 60th year, Nikita Khrushchev was unknown to the outside world, a faceless, quiet man. He has made up for all that in the last five years.

Bombings Add To The Jitters In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Three night bombings threw Little Rock into a new case of integration jitters today.

The blasts Monday night echoed through town in rapid succession.

The first bomb demolished a station wagon of Fire Chief Gann Nally in front of his home. The second one hit the school board building and the third the mayor's office.

Police poured out in force with riot guns, patrolling and barricading streets around the four public high schools. Two of the schools were integrated by five Negroes Aug. 12.

No one was injured but police suggested to school board members that they and their families leave their homes and spend the night elsewhere.

Police checked cars and homes of virtually all public officials and others who have been prominent in the integration squabble. Lights in all school buildings were turned on.

Nally's firemen helped police turn back some 200 segregationists in a march on Central High School on the opening of school last month.

It was at Central High School where mob violence broke out in the fall of 1957 over the integration of nine Negroes. Federal troops were called in to restore order.

Police Chief Gene Smith took personal charge of his 160 men who stopped motorists and pedestrians alike for checking.

Smith was visibly angry. He checked the wrecked buildings and then returned to police headquarters where he paced the floor and waited for reports.

The FBI was called in. So were police from North Little Rock, just across the Arkansas River. The most damage was at the office of Knopp in a construction company which he heads. There a steel panel in the building was knocked into the street.

One room of the school board building was wrecked and windows were shattered. The concussion from the bombing there blew out windows of the Carmelite Monastery next door where Catholic nuns were asleep. None was hurt.

The blasts all came within 35 minutes. Nally's home is south of Little Rock.

Stabbing

It was the latest outburst in a wave of youth violence that has aroused the city. A crackdown on juvenile delinquents has netted more than 300 arrests of persons under 21 in a week. City and state authorities are prepared for all-out war on young criminals.

An unidentified taxicab driver told police he watched a youth quarrel with an older man on a Third Avenue corner. The cab driver said he saw the chase and the attack. Then, he said, he rushed the victim, Thomas Jordan, to a hospital, where he died.

The cab driver returned to the scene of the stabbing—about 10 blocks north of Manhattan's Bowery—and helped detectives look for the young killer.

About five blocks away, they picked up Ramiro Roman, 17, a delivery boy who lives in the neighborhood.

Through an interpreter, Roman said he had come to New York a few months ago from Puerto Rico, that he spoke almost no English, and that he knew nothing about any stabbing. He was taken to a police station for extensive questioning.

The stabbing came a short time after Mayor Robert F. Wagner delivered a tough television speech in which he said juvenile crime would be met with all the power the city police can muster.

"This isn't juvenile delinquency, some advanced stage of truancy from school or pinching apples from the corner grocer," declared Wagner. "It's crime, full-fledged, committed by youths old enough to know better, but who probably never will."

He referred to the slaying Aug. 30 of two 16-year-old boys in a Hell's Kitchen playground during an attack by several youths armed with knives. A week earlier a 15-year-old girl was shot to death and a boy fatally stabbed in an outburst of street gang warfare on the Lower East Side.

Miss Thompson will reign at Jaycee activities during the year, including a Christmas holiday parade.

Beauty queen contestants were among entries in a 50-unit parade held prior to a free dance and the crowning ceremony. Among other entries were VFW Post 66 of East Liverpool—national championship drill team—drill teams from American Legion Post 70 and VFW Post 9285, both of Wellsville, and the French train of the Columbiana County Voiture of the 40 & 8.

JUDGES for the beauty contest were Arthur Simmers, H. J. English and Dr. F. D. Irwin, all of East Liverpool.

About 1,000 were present for activities in the afternoon at Hammond Park.

Baby contest winners included Gale Emery Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Parsons of Hammondsville, and Brenda Nettie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nettie, 813 17th St., Wellsville, in the 2-4-year age bracket, and Randy Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Carroll, 600 17th St., and Debbie Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hutchinson, 1616 Maple Ave., both of Wellsville, in the 4-6-year group.

CASH PRIZES were presented winners. Judges were two nurses from City Hospital, Mrs. Clara Bobalik of Wellsville and Mrs. Clara Armstrong of East Liverpool. Twenty-four youngsters participated.

Wayne Rose, Jaycee president, presented trophies to VFW Post 5647, Little League champions, and Super-Foods, Babe Ruth Baseball League winners, at the climax of two baseball games. Bill MacLean managed the VFW team and Virgil Kountz the Babe Ruth League winners.

Penny scrambles, races and potato-rolling contests were among games for children. A "greased pole" contest attracted the most attention at the picnic and the event was finally won by Jeff Davidson after about an hour of futile attempts by youngsters to hoist their way up the slick flagpole, winning $5.

day at 12:05 p. m. that resulted when the brakes failed on an auto descending the grade toward the Post Office.

An auto operated by Ernest Keys Joyce, 46, of 1078 Mapletree St. hit the rear of a halted pickup driven by Dorsey L. Beaver, 38, of 1785 Pennsylvania Ave. and caused it to strike the front of a 1959 sedan operated by James A. Lynch, 24, of 2201 Pickering Ave., officers said.

Beaver was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the left shoulder and arm and Margaret Beaver, 1785 Pennsylvania Ave., was treated for an injured back. Lynch and a passenger in his car, Tracy Lynch, 21, 833 Watson Ave., were examined and released.

Joyce was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to operating an auto with defective brakes. Joyce told police he was driving down the E. 5th St. Hill when he noted that the traffic light at Walnut St. had turned red and that Beaver had halted. But the brakes of Joyce's car failed completely and he hit the rear of Beaver's truck rather than crash into oncoming traffic in the other lane, he told police.

Lynch told police he was halted at the intersection, waiting to make a left turn. When Joyce's auto hit the rear of the halted truck, it pushed it into the front of the Lynch auto, officers said. There was heavy damage to the front of each vehicle. The rear of the truck also was damaged, police said.

Only one other crash was reported in East Liverpool yesterday. A backing 1954 sedan hit a halted 1959 foreign sports car at Broadway and E. 5th St. at 4:15 p. m., police said.

The backing car, driven by Grayce G. Wolfe, 47, of 1023 Ohio Ave., hit a halted sports car operated by James Zelch, 1572 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said. The woman driver said she was halted at the corner for a traffic light when she backed up to give more room to a big bus that was rounding the corner.

Couple And Son Hurt

A city couple and their son were injured when their car struck a halted Army Reserve Tank on the Campground Rd. near Wellsville Monday night about 8:50.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the car, driven by Mrs. Catherine Martin, 37, of 120 W. Drury Ln., struck the halted tank operated by Donald Glass, 27, of Chester.

The tank belongs to the 7th Medium Tank Battalion, and was en route from a Labor Day parade at Wellsville. Officers of the unit said the tank was halted, but partially on the roadway.

Mrs. Martin, a city Meter Maid, suffered cuts of the lip and left leg and bruises of the ribs. Her husband, Donald Martin, 48, received a deep cut of the forehead.

and their son, Keith, 7, received cuts of the face. They were treated at City Hospital.

Mrs. Martin was driving south, and the mishap occurred about 1.2 miles north of Wellsville. Members of the unit said reservists in a jeep ahead of the tank attempted to flag down the driver.

The patrol is investigating.

Geneva College Student Dies Of Crash Injury

BEAVER FALLS — Injuries received Saturday in a collision near Coudersport, Pa., claimed the life Monday of a 19-year-old Geneva College student.

Miss Bonnie Marie Elliott of North Sewickley Township died in Potter County Memorial Hospital. She was a passenger in a foreign car driven by Theodore Buch, 20, of Beaver Falls, who is in satisfactory condition with multiple cuts and bruises.

The young couple were following her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Ward Elliott, to Osceola, Pa., when another car operated by a 73-year-old driver crossed in front of them.

Steubenville Woman

Injured In Fog Crash

A Steubenville area woman was injured in a crash of a car and a tanker truck on the Route 30 Cannons Mills hill in fog early this morning, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Agnes Smith, 63, of Bloomingdale R. D. 1 was treated at City Hospital for bruises of the head and knees received when a car in which she was a passenger rammed the rear of the truck about 5:30 a. m.

She was in the car of Lewis W. Smith, 35, of Steubenville, who was driving north when he hit the rear of the tanker truck operated by Charles Wack, 61, of Youngstown who was stopped.

The front of Smith's 1953 coach was damaged heavily, according to officers, who cited him for failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

Khrushchev Is Not Quintuplets

Latest of the nonsensicalities about what Premier Khrushchev should see in the United States is a suggestion by a United States senator (Javits of New York) that he should see a civil rights debate in Congress.

That is how silly we can get about the forthcoming visit of the Soviet Union's No. 1 politician. All other efforts to be foolish will be wasted and of no avail. Sen. Javits wins the kiewpie doll.

We hope the professional watchers and listeners who keep the Kremlin briefed on what is going on in the United States will be easy on us in their reports. America has not been at its best so far in the affair of the Khrushchev visit.

We have gone off the psychiatric deep end. Our cogs have been slipping.

A great many of us have been behaving as if the Russian premier were coming here in a mood to be brain-washed with fresh cider and pumpkin pie.

There has been a shocking resurgence of a credo that presumably had been put down for good — that to know Americans is to love us. Nikita Khrushchev is not coming to the United States to love us.

IT WILL not matter how many bountiful farms he may see, how many goodies he may sample, how many happy people he may meet.

It will not matter how many typical towns he may inspect, how many factories he may fly over or walk through. He is not going to change his mind about his stock in trade, which is his firm belief that he is riding the wave of the future and it is his mission to rescue a part of the world which he believes is riding the wave of the past.

If he wavered from this in word or deed, his political future would lie behind him. He is the representative and agent of the Russian political monopolists who have given him permission to come here. Strong as he is in his own right, his ultimate strength is in the monolithic political system of the Soviet Union.

Russian agents have told him everything he needs to know and wants to know about the public reaction that has occurred since his visit was announced.

He knows Americans are undergoing a spasm of national irrationality; that he has upset them.

He knows they have reacted with incredibly childish ideas and have been alternately over-enthusiastic and over-hostile.

His analysts, who are as hard-bitten as he is, certainly must have sized it up as a sign of naivete on the part of the American people — a sign with possible bearing on the behavior of their government.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV would have to be quintuplets to see a fifth of the things that have been proposed. Perhaps in the next few days it will become evident that all he really adds up to is one aging man who boiled to the top in a great political ferment in Russia and now, in the twilight of his allotted span on earth, is coming to the United States for a few days to see with his own eyes a country he has heard about but never has seen.

He no more would be able to understand a debate on civil rights than he will be able to understand the bulk of all the other things he will see, hear and be told about.

It's time for his hosts to pull up their socks and quit being foolish.

Personality Makes A Difference

Even the cold dignity of President De Gaulle of France seemed to turn warmer when President Eisenhower reached Paris. There could be no doubt about it—the French crowds "liked Ike."

They responded to his personality with the same enthusiasm that had been shown by Germans and Britons. Personality makes a difference, and the Eisenhower personality has been a warming influence in relations among the Western Allies since the early years of World War II.

It is not a substitute for painstaking diplomacy. It is not a substitute for anything. But it is a supplement that might ease some of the stand-offishness that has complicated international relations.

NO CITIZEN of any member nation of the Western Allies—in truth, no citizen of any free country anywhere on earth—can fail to be impressed with the impact of President Eisenhower's earnest good will when he is given an opportunity to put it on display.

The confidence he is able to command by his word and presence, backed up by his deeds, is a powerful influence over the thoughts and decisions of leaders who must be responsive to popular opinion.

His mission in Europe, as he has made plain on all occasions, was to reassure Europeans that the United States is not thinking about any rapprochement with the Soviet Union that might hurt them.

THIS is the sort of thing that could have been mouthed endlessly by spokesmen speaking for the White House without convincing anyone.

But it was the easy conviction of the Adenauers, Macmillans and De Gaulles that if Dwight Eisenhower said it he meant it, because the man obviously is incapable of duplicity.

The main impact of the Eisenhower visit, moreover, has not been made in the places he has visited but in the place he is going to visit—Moscow.

The Kremlin has made a practice of sending out representatives to receive the plaudits of crowds in friendly countries, but it never heard of anything like this.

DWIGHT EISENHOWER draws cheers and applause because millions of people like him as a person and believe implicitly in everything he says as the chief executive of the United States.

He has more people behind him in his announced role of peacemaker than any war-maker could hope to find in these days of momentous decision.

It was a question then whether business enterprise ever would undo the damage inflicted on it by the blasters, led and inspired by the occupant of the White House with colorful phrases like "malefactors of great wealth," "Tories," "Bourbons" and "unreconstructed rebels," if his targets happened to be Southerners.

Business was advised by its friends to create a new "image" of itself for the public — to put more money and effort into its public relations — to put its best foot forward.

Unionists who wonder why Congress is disposed to look owlishly at their demands in 1959 would do well to learn how things were in 1933 and afterward when the public turned against some of the wild excesses of business power.

Labor unions needed to be careful, lest they be tempted to abuse the authority bestowed on them in the '30s when they were cleaning up on anti-business sentiment. They weren't as careful as they needed to be.

Instead of being in a state of anger against Congress, some of unionism's leaders should get into a state of honest analysis.

The time has come for them to worry about the "image" of unionism that has been created in the public mind — for them to do something about "public relations."

The Once Over

It's a rich man these days who can get a haircut and shave without first asking for estimates. In fact a thrifty man should put his haircutting job out for bids before entering a barbershop. It's a big deal.

Haircut prices have reached such heights that an inquiry is asked by the New York attorney general, with similar action in other cities. Barbers get so much to cut your hair that customers are asking for a "trade-in allowance" on their old hair.

The $1.50 and $1.75 price is no novelty. It should be one of the luxuries covered by credit card and time payments.

FOR GENERATIONS man got a haircut for a quarter. For the last two decades it's been going up by leaps and bounds. And the trouble is that some barbers don't give you as expert an opinion on baseball for $1.75 as they used to dish out for 50 cents.

Old timers say that for a quarter they got much more neighborhood gossip and better market advice. The red and white pole has become a symbol of luxury services.

A man used to clip two horses and three sheep for what it now costs to get a haircut.

The wife asked us, "Why don't you get a haircut?" and our answer was, "Do you want people to think I married for money, hit oil or discovered uranium?"

The haircut has become a commodity, a factor in American economy and a subject for discussion in "Wall Street Journal."

You save nothing through a bald head. A man with half a dozen hairs is soaked as much as a Paderewski. This is the same as charging as much for coloring an Easter egg as for painting a home.

The New York attorney general thinks there may be a violation of the anti-monopoly law through price fixing. An Anti Monopoly Bureau official is probing, too. He says barbers are co-operating and have promised to keep haircut costs down. Wanna bet?

RIN TIN TIN has reportedly switched from the evening to an afternoon TV. Should a pooch take this without an appeal to the SPCA?

The current American League cry is "Don't break up the Yanks."

A Jungle That Might Help

They're Picketing The Moon And Mars

By Victor Riesel

They picketed the moon the other day. Or perhaps it was Mars. Few know which. We know only that the pickets belong to the International Union of Operating Engineers.

This outfit is guaranteed not to be selected by the sculptors of the world as the model for a majestic "Purity in Repose."

There is one road only turning from the Florida beach highway towards the Atlantic to Cape Canaveral.

Some day some astronaut will take that road to the Air Force Base and wind up in the heavens. That is, if some local construction union hasn't decided to place a lone picket with a small "Don't Cross" sign at the roadside.

The placard at the junction of the highway and the one road which all must travel can close the secret super-missile launching base. The picket need only stand by.

He will be recognized. No one will go past him to work. Not even if they are members of 10 other unions. It is no longer is enough to ask that the police department keep order. The police department is helpless in the presence of large-scale, systematic disorder.

There are areas of the city in which no knowledgeable citizen would walk alone after dark. There are areas in which life is not safe during daylight.

Policemen, themselves, must walk in pairs in the worst sections. No one acknowledges their authority. They are fighting for the right to survive, just like the citizens they are paid to protect.

There is no security in New York City other than that permitted by its underworld; that is the sharp, cold truth. The most astonishing thing that has happened in months, according to New York police authorities, was the failure of the underworld to run amuck during the recent electric power failure. This was the cynical revelation of what has become the obsession of the city's police authority—that the baddies are potentially the masters of the goodies. They cannot be kept at bay.

What might happen if an electric power failure blacked out the city for more than a few hours is something no one wants to think about.

New York City is the first of EMERGENCY WORK is not the moral issue here. The Engineers could have picketed the Jacksonville Beach offices. The union chose instead to picket a "common site."

It threw 800 men out of work for a while. This cost them much needed pay. It cost the other employers money while their equipment stood idle. The strike added to the government's construction costs.

No one argues the union's right to strike or picket. What is being argued is whether it has the right to involve hundreds of other men and other firms in their own quarrel.

And all this at the very moment when national labor leaders, their own chiefs, were embattled in the corridors of Congress, trying to ease the new law being written.

If the rank-and-file members care not for labor's public relations, they will have no one to blame but themselves for the anger of the public and the lawmakers.

Truce In A Civil War

By Truman Twill

There has been a story in the New York newspapers about two dozen youth gang leaders who have been persuaded to leave the nation's largest city while social workers arrange a truce in gang warfare that recently took two lives, imperiled dozens of others and will splatter the streets with blood if it cannot be stopped.

If a truce can be worked out, it will be a repetition of a truce worked out three years ago that kept the morgues from filling up.

This is the way these things must be done in the nation's largest city. It no longer is enough to ask that the police department keep order. The police department is helpless in the presence of large-scale, systematic disorder.

There are areas of the city in which no knowledgeable citizen would walk alone after dark. There are areas in which life is not safe during daylight.

Policemen, themselves, must walk in pairs in the worst sections. No one acknowledges their authority. They are fighting for the right to survive, just like the citizens they are paid to protect.

There is no security in New York City other than that permitted by its underworld; that is the sharp, cold truth. The most astonishing thing that has happened in months, according to New York police authorities, was the failure of the underworld to run amuck during the recent electric power failure. This was the cynical revelation of what has become the obsession of the city's police authority—that the baddies are potentially the masters of the goodies. They cannot be kept at bay.

What might happen if an electric power failure blacked out the city for more than a few hours is something no one wants to think about.

New York City is the first of our great population centers to face the ultimate consequences of urban overcrowding. It is the first to reap the whirlwind of bad practices that should have brought down the wrath of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

It will not be the first, of course, to confess it has compounded these errors to the point where it has become unfit for human habitation.

That is the prerogative of commentators like me who have nothing to lose in the form of real estate values or vested interests.

No populated place that crowds people together the way they must live in some parts of New York City is fit for habitation.

No populated place is so precious to the nation as a whole that its desperation can justify the squandering of huge sums of public money to offset conditions that cannot be corrected. The fault is in the city, itself. It is too congested.

The new kinds of tenements that were substituted for the old kinds of tenements in New York City are just as productive of desperate characters as the grimmest of the cold-war flats.

"Desperate" is the word for these subhuman people. They have been born and reared without hope.

They have reverted to the behavior patterns of lower animals because their environment has robbed them of the prerogatives of the higher animals.

No human in his right mind would keep a dog under conditions as bad as those in which the wild children of New York City grow up. When their leaders must be conned into going away so the city can cook up a truce to prevent further bloodshed and death, the last step over the brink into municipal oblivion is in sight. Maybe the next time the leaders will refuse to go away and declare war, instead.

Down Through The Years

Sun Flares

The sun that seems to beam benevolently on earth is really an angry, churning mass of gas that affects communications, weather, and man's hopes of venturing into space.

Mysterious blemishes known as sunspots break through the sun's surface from below. Tongues of gas, called spicules, surge up and subside. Clouds of vapor, or prominences, swirl and erupt high above the sun's surface.

Like a giant lightning flash, the unpredictable flare bursts out and covers an area measured in hundreds of thousands of square miles.

The flare may take an hour or more to subside. A big one in July lasted three hours.

Eating Out Of Ike's Hand

By James Marlow

Democrats Fail To Roar As Expected

WASHINGTON

The Democrats could have roared like tigers. Instead they just moaned. President Eisenhower kept them cowed all year.

Thanks to the 1958 elections, they took over the Capitol with the biggest majorities in both houses since early New Deal days. But they became pretty much yes-men for the President.

From this Congress now reaching an end Eisenhower got so much he wanted that he probably won't complain. There are five explanations for his getting the opposition party to eat out of his hand:

1. His unexpected, aggressive leadership.

2. The new Republican leaders in both House and Senate.

3. The Democrats' failure to act consistently as a party. When it suited them, Southern Democrats split off and teamed up with the Republicans.

4. The Democratic leaders—Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas—are conservative, middle-of-the-road managers without fire.

5. There were no stinging issues except one which Eisenhower fashioned into a club for hitting the Democrats: inflation.

Instead of showing a diminishing interest and influence — as might be expected of a president finishing his second and last term — Eisenhower became increasingly active.

Individual Republicans in Congress may disagree with Eisenhower, as they do. But the Republicans as a party took a tremendous beating in the 1958 elections while Eisenhower remained enormously popular.

Without him, they had no policy of their own. To fight him in 1959 might have meant worse disaster in the 1960 elections. As a group they have gone along with him this year.

At the start of this Congress Republicans in the House dumped their leader of 20 years—the 74-year-old Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts—and put in his place Charles Halleck, 59, of Indiana, a much more active man.

In the Senate Everett Dirksen of Illinois, a busy kind of man, was chosen to replace Sen. William Knowland of California, who left the Senate in 1958.

Halleck and Dirksen, particularly the former, worked hard to keep the Republicans solid with the President and, when they could, to get Southern Democrats to go along with them.

It was a potent combination. Eisenhower vetoed seven bills which Congress passed but he didn't like. The Democratic-run Congress never once was able to gather enough votes to override him.

Enough Southern Democrats always shifted over to the Republican side to uphold the President on his vetoes.

It was a shift of Southern Democrats to the Republican side in the House which enabled Eisenhower to get the tough kind of labor control bill he wanted. Johnson and Rayburn and most other Democrats would have settled for a milder one.

These Southern Democratic shifts demonstrated what has been plain for a long time: That the Democrats cannot make good on a promise to perform as a single party, that sometimes there are three parties: Democrats, Republicans, Southern Democrats.

There were few emotional or flaming issues before Congress in 1959.

The country zoomed into high prosperity out of the recession of 1958. Eisenhower beat the Democrats into submissiveness on the spending problem by continually calling them big spenders. It made them self-conscious.

Johnson and Rayburn, with some minor exceptions, followed so meekly along the road charted by Eisenhower that they sometimes gave the impression of standing in awe of him, or at least in awe of his popularity with voters.

They can say they provided constructive and cooperative leadership. But they followed along so faithfully behind Eisenhower that they narrowed the grounds on which voters can choose between the parties in 1960.

The Young In Heart

By Lillian Genn

More people under 19 are getting married today than ever before. Popular theories for the increase are either that marriage at a young age is the popular thing to do or that young people are not happy and are, therefore, looking toward marriage as a path to happiness.

A study made at the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station, Lincoln, Neb., has sought to investigate the truthfulness of such popular ideas. The study was made by Dr. J. Joel Moss and Mrs. Ruby Gingles of the University of Nebraska. They teach in the department of home economics and do family life research in the experiment station.

THE STUDY started in 1955 with 3,456 girls from grades 9 to 12 in the vocational homemaking classes in 72 high schools in Nebraska.

From 1955 to the spring of 1957, the names of 313 girls who married before age 19 were obtained and comparisons were made of these girls with the girls from the study who had not married.

Findings supported several challenging ideas, according to Dr. Moss.

"Our idea that girls who marry early tend to be less well adjusted and to have less satisfying relationships with their families than do their classmates was supported by some of our findings."

Girls who married early had engaged in a more steady dating pattern than those who had not married. Whereas 83 per cent of the early married girls had been dating only one person, going steady or engaged when the researchers first contacted all the girls in their study, only 34 per cent of the unmarrieds were in such a steady dating pattern.

This would seem to suggest that early dating and steady dating tend to be closely tied with early age at marriage."

Nearly a third of the young marrieds had known their husbands less than one year before marriage; 54 per cent had not been engaged or were engaged less than six months.

The girls were married at an average age of just over 17 and their husbands were, on the average, more than five years older. Thirty-eight per cent of the girls did not finish high school and only 13 per cent were attending school after marriage.

And, of the girls' mothers, 36 per cent had married before the age of 19.

More of the unmarrieds had plans for going to college than those who married. According to the girls, there was little difference between those marrying and those not marrying in ability of the parents to pay for a college education. The education level of the parents of the marrieds and the unmarrieds was almost identical.

EARLY MARRIAGE tends to be more frequent among the lower basis of educational level and ability to finance college educations these parents did not seem to vary in socio-economic level.

Mrs. Gingles explained this by noting that, "since most of these girls were from small Nebraska towns it is not likely that very great socio-economic differences will appear, at least in relation to education and money. Perhaps socio-economic differences are based on other prestige values."

The girls felt they were ready for marriage. "This optimism may or may not reflect a honeymoon glow," said Dr. Moss. "These girls had been married an average of 16 months." Whatever it was, the girls seemed to breathe optimism about their new adventure.

When the young marrieds were asked what problems they had faced since marriage, 42 per cent stated they had experienced no problems, 26 per cent mentioned problems in the finance and budgeting area and 9 per cent indicated immaturity of the partner had been a problem.

Mrs. Gingles noted that: "The girls found it harder to talk about sex than did their mothers when we interviewed them. Nevertheless, they talked more freely about it than many people would expect, since we found that 31 per cent of the girls told us they were pregnant at the time of the marriage."

Most of the girls felt that their relationship with their parents and the community improved. "We did not find that the girls who marry early are casting off family ties," said Dr. Moss. "As a matter of fact, these youngsters continue to go to their parents for advice, financial help, services, and social visits. About 86 per cent felt that adults made a place for them after the marriage."

30 Are Killed On Ohio's Highways

Traffic 30, Boating 0, Non-Boating Drownings 2, Miscellaneous 6—Total 38.

By The Associated Press
At least 30 persons were killed on Ohio's highways during the long Labor Day weekend—higher than that predicted in pre-holiday estimates.

The Buckeye State's total, based on Monday morning reports, indicated it was the second highest in the nation. Only the California toll of 37 was higher.

Safety officials estimated a toll of 27, the same as that in last year's Labor Day holiday.

Highway slaughter took part of its toll in twos, threes and even fives in single accidents.

The worst accident, in terms of number killed, occurred near Findlay on a warm, sunshiny Sunday afternoon. Death came fast to three victims—two of them only boys. And then it slowly plucked the lives of two more youths, so that by Monday night, five in all had succumbed to a devastating roadside auto collision.

Another two-car smashup, in Defiance County, claimed the lives of three men. A three-car collision near Dayton killed two women. And two men died when their car hit a truck near Cincinnati.

Off the highways, accidental death claimed eight other lives—two in drownings, and six from miscellaneous causes.

Ironically, one fire victim, a Mansfield man, met death the same way as his father and brother had several years ago. The father was a fireman killed in a 1947 blaze; the brother died two years later in a fire at the family home.

The Associated Press survey of accidental deaths covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday.

Friday Night
Byron D. Petering, 22, Brookville, when his motorcycle was hit by a car at the intersection of Ohio 311 and U.S. 40 northwest of Dayton.

George Woodworth, 43, Saylor Park, when his auto left a curving highway near that Cincinnati suburb and hit an embankment.

Frank L. Viers, 60, of Toledo in an auto collision at a Toledo intersection.

Mrs. Fannie Holt, 35, Cleveland, burned to death when a fire, which authorities blamed on careless smoking, engulfed her bed.

Gilbert Funk, 29, Mansfield, burned to death when, authorities said, his bed clothing caught fire from a cigarette.

Melvin Johnson, 39, Massillon, when a 30-foot concrete silo collapsed on him as he was helping to construct it on a Sandusky County farm.

James R. Ertel, 20, of near Milford, when his motorcycle collided with a truck near U.S. 50 in Clermont County.

Labor Day A Memory

Crowds Seek Heat Relief But Temperature Mounts

A combination of hot weather and Labor Day lured thousands to district parks Monday for the last holiday of summer.

And today they might wish they were back at the shady picnic tables or cooling pools as the Ohio weatherman forecast still higher temperatures through Wednesday. The mercury touched a hot 92 degrees yesterday afternoon but it may go to 95 today, which would be the second such reading this summer.

The range will be 90 to 95 with increased humidity. Tonight's low will be an uncomfortable 69 to 73. Dam 8 at Newell, which recorded the 92 yesterday between 3 and 4 p. m., chalked up a 73 at 5 a. m. as the overnight low after a sultry 78 at midnight. Tomorrow will be sunny and continued hot and humid.

A crowd of 554 sought respite in the municipal swimming pool in Thompson Park from the extreme heat on Labor Day. The park's picnic facilities also were crowded. William Bell, superintendent, said.

The swimming pool has been closed for the season but the park will remain open for picnics until cold weather, he said.

An estimated 4,000 visited Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughstown during the Labor Day holiday, including 650 swimmers.

N. T. Holbrook, supervisor, said the pool was scheduled to close for the season Monday but swimming facilities may be opened again this weekend in case of pleasant weather. Some 45,000 swimmers—a new attendance figure—used the park's modern swimming pool this summer.

Some 1,800 visited Lake Marwin Monday for swimming, fishing and picnics.

The park will remain open for picnics and dancing but work was scheduled to start today to remodel the park for next year. The dance hall will be enlarged, the swimming pool renovated and a miniature golf course installed.

About 15,000 attended Rock Springs Park over Sunday and Monday. Robert Hand, manager of the Chester amusement center, said.

The park is now closed for the winter.

A large crowd enjoyed the facilities at Raccoon Creek State Park in Beaver County yesterday, according to the park management.

Some 4,450 swimmers took a dip on the last day of the season while 4,815 were registered in the picnic area. About 150 fishermen lined the lake shores.

Although the lake will be closed for swimming, the picnic area will remain open until the end of the month and the boat house will be open on weekends for fishermen.

East End Child Hurt By Man

A 3-year-old East End girl suffered a small scratch on her neck Sunday night as an apparent result of an encounter with a mysterious attacker who invaded her family's home.

Early Sunday night, Patrolman Jerry Adkins was summoned to the Michigan Ave. home on a report that "someone was in the house." He said he searched the premises thoroughly, but was unable to find anyone.

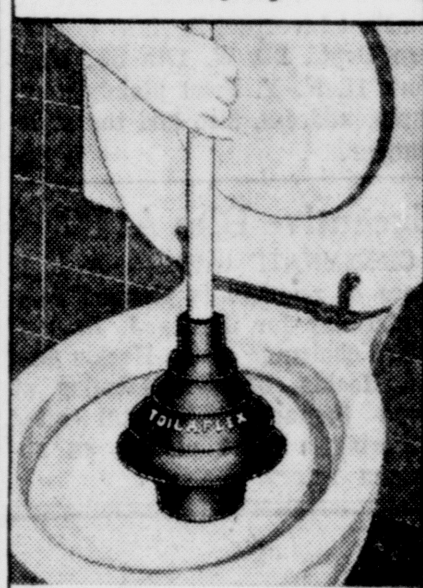

At 8:40 p. m. Sunday, Patrolman Keith Mooney received a report that a man was believed to be in the Michigan Ave. home. The father of the 3-year-old told Officer Mooney that an unknown man grabbed his daughter by the throat, but fled when she screamed. The patrolman searched the house a second time, but found nothing.

Police said the child had "a small scratch on her neck" which may have resulted from the encounter. Backing up the report was the fact that neighbors said they "saw someone running up the alley" about the time the incident was reported. The mysterious man was described as tall and heavy-set with a thick mustache and dark hair.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: To look at me you'd never guess I had two teen-age children. I have no gray hair, no wrinkles and no excess baggage.

A few months ago I became fascinated by an art dealer whose studio is near our apartment. I'm not the type to sneak around so I told my husband everything. I didn't want a divorce or a separation — only his patience and understanding until the tornado blew itself out.

Being broad minded and intelligent he agreed to stand by. He treated me beautifully and we put up the usual front of a happily married couple.

In less than three months the affair was over. I love my husband more than ever for his maturity and strength. He's delighted to have me back on a full-time basis and is willing to forgive and forget.

No one was hurt and I learned from experience there's no place like home. Now we're closer than ever. I feel that everyone profited. Do you agree?—MITZIE.

Dear Mitzie: If you're looking for a good conduct medal you came to the wrong place.

Consider yourself lucky your husband didn't broom you out when the tornado hit. Just because he didn't throw himself on the floor and chew the rug doesn't mean he wasn't deeply hurt.

And while you're counting your blessings, include a prayer of thanks that your children didn't hear the gossip. You were luckier all the way around than you had a right to be.

Old-Fashioned Miss

Dear Ann: Clark and I have gone steady for 18 months and we're getting engaged. The problem is the ring.

He comes from a well-to-do family and is rather spoiled. He works for his father at a good salary but spends everything he makes. Last year he bought an expensive sports car which made me angry.

Now he wants to give me a big diamond which was his mother's engagement ring. I told him I'd rather have a small ring — one he paid for himself.

He says I'm cracked. My mother agrees with him. Dad thinks I'm right. What do you think? — LORNA.

Dear Lorna: Congratulations. In this materialistic age when

Sweet Adelines Chapter To Make Pittsburgh Trip

Final arrangements to attend "Harmony Hi-Lites," the first annual show of the Golden Triangle Chapter of Sweet Adelines of Pittsburgh, were made at the meeting of the East Liverpool chapter Friday night in the YMCA. Set for Sunday afternoon at the Syria Mosque, the group will meet 1 p. m. at the terminal to go by chartered bus.

Featured will be the Buffalo Bills, currently appearing in the Broadway hit, "The Music Man," with Wayne Ward, formerly of East Liverpool, baritone in the barbershop vocal group.

Invitations were accepted to sing for the Calcutta Parent-Teacher Association Oct. 19 and the WSCS of the Boyce Methodist Church Dec. 15 at the Boyce Auditorium.

Reports were given by the housing committee and several places so many dames are hunting for husbands with a Geiger counter it's refreshing to find a girl who isn't interested in a skating rink to shove under the noses of her girl friends.

Stick to your guns. Tell Clark you're not marrying his father and that you want only the kind of ring HE can afford.

Snoopy, Landlord

Dear Ann: This noon, while the people who rent from us were gone, I took my key and let myself in. I had reason to suspect they had my handsaw. I did nothing illegal after I got into the house. All I did was look around.

I didn't find the handsaw but I did see a shotgun which disappeared from our back porch last year.

How can I get the gun back without letting them know I was in their house?—WALLEYE.

Dear Walleye: You're not short on brass, Bub, and you may be in legal trouble. Look at your lease. Does it say you have the right to enter when the tenants aren't at home? If the lease gives you this right, then tell them you saw the gun and you're glad they "found it." If not, ask them to please keep their eyes open for the shotgun you "lost" last year, and nix on breaking and entering in the future.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Motive Is Hunted In Gun Death Of Brazilian Athlete

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Police sought today to establish a motive in the gunshot death of a Brazilian athlete whose body was found on a lawn of a small college campus.

Ronaldo Duncan Arantes, 26, of Rio de Janeiro, a member of Brazil's rowing team in the third Pan-American Games, had been shot through the heart.

Police speculated he was shot while grappling with an armed bandit.

"We are proceeding with an investigation of homicide, but we are not ruling out the possibility of suicide," said William J. Bauer, state's attorney for Du Page County.

The young man's body lay Monday on a lawn near Geiger Hall on the North Central College campus where the Brazilian team resided during the games.

QUESTIONS often Asked about Electric Heating

CAN ALL HOMES BE HEATED ELECTRICALLY?

Any house, new addition or existing room that can be fully insulated can be heated with ELECTRIC HEAT.

DO YOU HAVE A SPECIAL RATE FOR HOME HEATING?

No. Our Company has only one electric rate schedule for residential service. It provides for step-down reductions after the customer uses the first 30 kilowatt hours @ 5 cents each month.

Every customer who uses 220 KWHrs in a month—at a cost of $6.70—buys all additional KWHrs at 1.5¢ per KWHr. The rate used for home heating is 1.5¢ per KWHr. (Our special 1¢ rate for water heating is based on tank size).

WHAT DOES IT COST TO HEAT A HOME WITH ELECTRICITY?

The cost of any heating system will vary with the size and type of house and living habits of the family. Customer bills show the yearly cost of electric heating to vary from 10¢ to 20¢ per square foot of living area. The average is 15¢—a 1200 square foot house would run about $180 a year.

HOW DOES THIS COST COMPARE WITH OTHER SYSTEMS?

A comparison of fuel bills does not tell the story. Other heating systems have "hidden" costs such as electricity to run blower, replace filters, repair charges and cleaning bills. With electric heating these items are eliminated or reduced to nearly nothing. When all costs are considered, Electric Heating costs little more than other systems.

CAN OPERATING COSTS BE ESTIMATED?

Yes—with a high degree of accuracy. Research by heating engineers provides established heat loss tables for various building materials. By measuring the various areas of the house and applying the tables, an accurate cost can be estimated for any climate.

IS INSULATION IMPORTANT?

Yes—a full insulation is necessary. We recommend the 6-4-2 formula. This means 6 inches in the ceiling, 4 inches in the outside walls and 2 inches under floors over a crawl space or other unheated areas.

ARE STORM WINDOWS AND DOORS NECESSARY?

Yes—Storm windows and doors add materially to the comfort of the house with any heating system. Full comfort, the important factor in electric heating, would not be complete without storm windows and storm doors. Savings in heating costs will run from 10% to 15% a year.

HOW IS THE BASEMENT HEATED?

Basements should be heated according to the use to be made of them. Recreation rooms and play areas that are regularly used are heated the same as any upstairs living area. Laundries and workshops for occasional use are heated by portable heaters of the blower type so that thermostats can be adjusted to meet the use.

HOW DOES INSTALLATION COST OF ELECTRIC HEATING COMPARE WITH OTHER SYSTEMS?

The Electric Heating System can usually be installed with full insulation at about the same cost as that of other systems with minimum insulation.

WHAT IS THE LIFE OF AN ELECTRIC HEATING SYSTEM?

Unless accidentally damaged, electric heating units will normally operate satisfactorily for the life of the house.

DOES COMPANY HAVE BUDGET BILLING FOR HEATING CUSTOMERS?

Yes, for the 10-month period, September through June. Here's how it works: We estimate the total electric service bill, including heat, for the 10-month period... divide by 10 for the equal-monthly-payment... you pay that amount each month beginning in September. Your June statement will show whether all budget payments have amounted to more or less than the cost of all electricity you have used. If you have overpaid, credit will be shown on your July bill. If actual use amounts to more than the 10-monthly payments, the additional amount will be added to your July bill.

TYPES OF ELECTRIC HEATING

Baseboard Heater—This attractive unit takes no usable wall space, is unobtrusive in appearance, and can be painted to match room decoration. The baseboard heater puts heat where it is needed—along the cold outside wall. Part of the heat is radiant, and part is convection. These units are cooler to the touch than steam radiators and most hot water radiators.

Ceiling Cable—Ceiling cable offers a truly invisible heating system. Insulated wire hidden in the ceiling provides an even, radiant heat throughout the room. Lengths of heating cable are merely stapled to the ceiling rock lath with a special stapling gun. Then coats of plaster or dry-wall are applied over the cables, completely concealing them from sight. The only visible part is the thermostat.

Forced Convection Type Heater—With this heater, a fan blows across an electric element to produce a circulating flow of heat. Although suitable in most locations, this type is especially adaptable where it is desired to supply a large amount of heat with a relatively small unit.

Radiant Panel—With the radiant panel heater infrared rays are radiated directly into the room and some warm air circulates evenly to provide well-balanced heating comfort.

Modern Electric Home Heating ... costs less than you think!

One style becomes a part of the baseboard... another is embedded in the ceiling... still another recesses into the wall. The heat is produced in each room—where you want it—when you want it.

Thermostat for each room

An automatic thermostat, installed in every room, lets you select the temperature you want for each room. You may like 72 degrees in the living room; 68, in the kitchen; and 65, in the bedrooms. You can have a warm 80 degrees for the nursery or sick room without overheating other rooms. Electric heating permits room-by-room control—gives a selection of heating comfort never before available.

Happy Home Helps Studies

should be encouraged to learn the names of birds and trees they see. Trips to the zoo and to museums will help awaken their curiosity. Not every child will be interested in all these activities, but it is a good idea to expose him to as many as possible.

Recently a brilliant young art director was asked, "Do you come from an artistic family?"

"No," he laughed, "my dad's a cigarmaker."

"How did you and your brother (also a professional) get interested in art?"

"Why, I don't know, my mother could draw a little. We had lots of paint books and crayons and stuff like that around. And mother was always dragging us to some museum. Poor Mama! We still tease her about the way she tried to get us interested in Rembrandt instead of baseball!"

Obviously, "poor Mama" was a good deal smarter than her boys suspected!

Beware of Mental Block

Of course, there is always the danger of putting so much emphasis on learning that a child develops a mental block about learning to read. Then you really do have a problem. A relaxed, confident attitude toward learning will be reflected in the child.

Perhaps you are thinking, books, records, tickets to concerts—how can I afford to buy all that? Well, books and records can be borrowed from libraries or friends. It is often possible to pick up great bargains at sales or secondhand stores.

Paperbound books are inexpensive. A family can enjoy concerts and plays from balcony seats; indeed children often prefer to sit "way up high." Museums are usually free.

Nevertheless, it does cost some money to give your children cultural opportunities. But is there any better way to invest money? "He who pours his purse into his head," said Benjamin Franklin, "need never fear thieves."

It can be done on a moderate income, but it is necessary to make some hard choices. Yet, an FM radio, a good phonograph or record player, and a substantial library of books and records will probably cost much less than the wall-to-wall carpeting you've had your heart set on.

To finance a child through high school costs at least $2,000. College away from home now costs at least $2,000 a year. It is important to make sure that the money is well spent and that youngsters get value received.

A report by the National Education Association points to the value of education. The average elementary school graduate, over a lifetime, will earn $116,000. The high school graduate will earn $165,000, while the earnings of the college graduate will go to $268,000.

The technical institute graduate will earn $280,000. From the dollars and cents standpoint, it's for no other, the value of a high school or college education remains unchallenged.

The opportunities are there if the youngster is interested in books and ideas, if he knows how to study and express himself clearly.

The parents must show the way in the child's earliest years. There is a story about a mother who asked a famous psychologist, "When should I begin my child's education?"

"When will your child be born?" he asked.

"Oh, he's 4 years old now."

"Madam," said the old man, "rush right home! You have already lost the most important years!"

Non-Forgetting Worm Offers Memory Twist

By JOHN BARBOUR
CINCINNATI (AP)—Discovery: a worm that never forgets and passes its memories on to generations of its offspring.

This remarkable ability indicates that some memory, perhaps even in humans, may be chemical in nature and passed on by heredity, a University of Michigan psychologist said today.

The worm is a common freshwater flatworm. With it, Dr. James V. McConnell and his fellow researchers conducted an unusual experiment, reported to the American Psychological Assn.

Flatworms were placed in a trough of water which is rigged to give them a slight shock. Electric light bulbs are hooked up over the trough and a second or two after the lights are turned on, the worms are shocked.

The shock makes the worms contract suddenly. This is done about 150 times. By then most of the worms contract automatically when the light is turned on.

Now the worms are cut in half. Each half regenerates into a new worm. The head half with the brain and two eyes grows a tail and the tail half grows a head. These worms are given a brief retraining period of 23 shocks.

Most of them remember their lessons and begin contracting with the light flash.

To test the memory still further, the researchers trained some more worms, cut them in half and threw the tails away. When the heads grew new tails, they were cut in half again and this time the head was thrown away.

This left the psychologists with an entirely regenerated worm. They subjected the new worm to the short retraining procedure and found the worm caught on or remembered almost as fast as the worms in the first experiment.

Why does the worm's body—even the part without the brain—seem to be able to pass on memory?

The best guess is that this particular memory is biochemical in nature — works through a change in some key chemical in the worm's body, Dr. McConnell said.

If this is so, it could provide some unusual new ideas in genetics and evolution.

There was no agreement on how this will be accomplished.

Such ardent civil rights advocates as Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) obviously have become convinced they can get a stiffer bill passed next year if they can just get a pledge of some kind from Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas to move for consideration of such a measure in January.

This strategy would call for passage in this session of legislation continuing the life of the Civil Rights Commission. The way was cleared Monday for House action on extension legislation when the House voted Rayburn authority to by-pass the Rules Committee.

Ex-Convict Confesses To Slaying Of Trooper

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The tearful plea of a policeman's wife broke down a defiant ex-convict who led officers to the shallow grave of her husband.

A three-day search ended with discovery Monday of the body of State Trooper Albert Souden, 29. He had been shot in the head, back and leg with his own pistol.

Alvin Knight, 48, the ex-convict, underwent 28 hours of questioning by police but it was not until the dramatic face-to-face appeal of Souden's wife, Clara, 23, the mother of a 7-month-old child, who told Knight: "I'll pray for you and forgive you, but please tell me where my husband is." Knight broke down and told officers he would lead them to the body. It was found about 30 miles northeast of here.

State police said Mrs. Souden's plea, some nine hours before Knight led officers to the body and admitted the slaying, was an important factor in persuading the man to talk.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said a warrant charging Knight with first-degree murder in the trooper's slaying last Thursday would be issued.

State Police Detective Howard Whaley said Knight orally admitted the slaying.

Knight was seized in a cottage about 150 miles from the murder scene. Souden's empty squad car was found Friday. His body was found about four miles southwest of the village of Argentine in southern Michigan.

Souden drove up to Knight's home in Argentine last Thursday to question him in connection with a burglary at a factory.

Whaley quoted Knight as saying he received permission from the trooper to get dressed and while he was in his bedroom he picked up a gun, order Souden into the trooper's car and forced him to drive away.

Knight told officers Souden bolted and ran after they had stopped the car in some woods. Whaley said Knight admitted he then shot the officer with his own gun.

Whaley reported that Knight told him he then walked home after abandoning Souden's squad car and fled north.

Knight has spent most of the last 29 years in prisons and mental hospital in Michigan and Ohio.

Federal Registrars Urged To Protect Right To Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Use of federal voting registrars where necessary was recommended by the Civil Rights Commission today to assure Negroes and other minority groups the right to vote for federal officials.

Southern senators promptly denounced this and other recommendations as "extreme and shocking," and a "program of deceit and distortion." They said they would oppose legislation needed to carry it out.

"It has become apparent that legislation presently on the books is inadequate to assure that all our qualified citizens shall enjoy the right to vote," the commission said in a report to President Eisenhower and Congress.

That recommendation was approved by five members of the six-man commission. The sixth, John S. Battle of Charlottesville, Va., dissented, saying present laws are adequate.

Use of federal registrars, Battle added, "would place in the hands of the federal government a vital part of the election process so jealously guarded and carefully reserved to the states by the founding fathers."

Three of the six members went further, and proposed a constitutional amendment to prevent discrimination. They proposed assurance of the right to vote to every citizen who meets his state's age and residence requirements and who is not legally convinced at the time of registration or election.

The proposal would wipe out educational and other requirements which some states demand of voters and which the three proponents said, provide the way when there is the will to discriminate.

The commission unanimously recommended federal action to require that all voting and registration records be preserved for five years. Public inspection would be permitted under restrictions which would preserve the secrecy of the ballot.

Although voting procedures occupied the commission's major attention, it delved also into alleged discrimination in education and housing. In those fields, further study was recommended by the commission if its life is extended. Under present law, the commission goes out of business two months from now.

The commission recommended, however, that the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration limit loan guarantees and other services to those builders who agree in writing to abide by existing laws against discrimination.

Half the members also urged denial of federal funds to colleges and universities which refuse to admit students because of race.

If you need two to three cups of chicken for a salad or some other dish, a 3 1/2 to 4-pound hen (after simmering in water or steaming) will yield this amount.

Never-Say-Die Indians Pull Two Games Out Of The Fire

Ninth-Inning Rallies Upset Detroit Twice

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's never-say-die Indians now are convinced anything can happen in the American League pennant race, although they trail Chicago by 4½ games with only 18 to play.

Battling doggedly to stay alive in the race, the Indians staged a pair of whirlwind finishes to snatch a doubleheader Monday from the Detroit Tigers, 15-14 and 6-5. It stretched Cleveland's winning streak to four games, the last three of them on ninth-inning rallies.

In the opener, Cleveland wiped out a 12-4 Detroit lead and drew even by scoring five runs in the fifth inning and three in the sixth. The Indians dropped two runs behind again but a three-run burst in the final frame pulled it out.

The nightcap provided more heroics as the Indians trailed 5-2, but scored one run in the seventh inning and poured across three more in the ninth to complete the sweep which took almost seven hours.

Manager Joe Gordon, who played on six pennant winners from New York and Cleveland, beamed in the clubhouse as he said:

"I never saw a day like this one and I don't expect I'll see another."

Asked about the Indians' chances to catch the flying White Sox, Gordon pointed to a sheet of yellow paper tacked on the bulletin board. The pencilled notations reviewed the last month of the 1948 flag chase.

That was the year Cleveland trailed Boston by 4½ games after Labor Day, but came roaring down the stretch to beat the Red Sox in a dramatic playoff for the pennant. Gordon was that team's sparkplug second baseman.

"I pointed out to the boys that we made up four games in just seven days in 1948," said Gordon. "I guess I didn't have to tell them anything can happen."

"They all know that now after those two games with Detroit."

The Indians now head east for a two-night doubleheader with Baltimore Wednesday night. It opens a 13-game road swing.

Gordon used 10 of his 11 pitchers in the Detroit twinnings, eight of them in the wild opener when the dozen hurlers employed by the two teams tied a league mark.

Despite the burden on the mound corps, Gordon feels his pitching should be in good shape for the eastern trip.

"It'll be (Jack) Harshman, (Jim) Perry and (Cal) McLish in that order against Baltimore," said Gordon. "In fact, all three of them threw just enough to get loose." Only Harshman didn't get into the doubleheader as a pitcher, but he was in the bullpen warming up.

Jim Piersall, who won the opener with a two-run single, started the final nightcap rally with his fifth hit of the day. Tito Francona had four hits in the opener, including a three-run homer, and a single in the nightcap to push his batting average to .391.

The first game was highlighted by 29 hits, 16 by the Indians. There also were seven homers, four by the Tigers.

The game started on a slugging note when Eddie Yost cracked a home run leading off. He hit another in the seventh inning to put the Tigers in front, 14-12. Lou Berberet and Frank Bolling had the other Detroit homers.

Rocky Colavito (No. 40) took over the league lead with his first-inning homer. The other Cleveland round trippers were by Francona (No. 19) and Woody Held (No. 28).

The ninth inning Cleveland rally in the first game started with walks to Vic Power and pinch hitter Harshman. Power scored as Ed Fitzgerald bounced a single to left. The runners moved to second and third on a sacrifice and raced home on Piersall's sharp grounder into center field.

Piersall opened the ninth inning of the nightcap with a single to left and Minnie Minsko did the same. Then Francona was hit on the right arm by one of Dave Sisler's pitches. One run scored as Colavito looped a single to right for his 102nd run batted in—tops in the league.

Held struck out, but the tying run crossed on a wild pitch by Sisler.

Finally — after almost seven hours—the 28,041 fans roared a final salute as Power fled deep to center and Francona trotted home after the catch for the 6-5 triumph.

Bobby Locke (3-2), the eighth Cleveland hurler, was the winner in the opener. Mike Garcia, knocked out in the second frame in the first game, came back to pitch the ninth of the second contest and pick up his third triumph in eight decisions.

Released By Ottawa

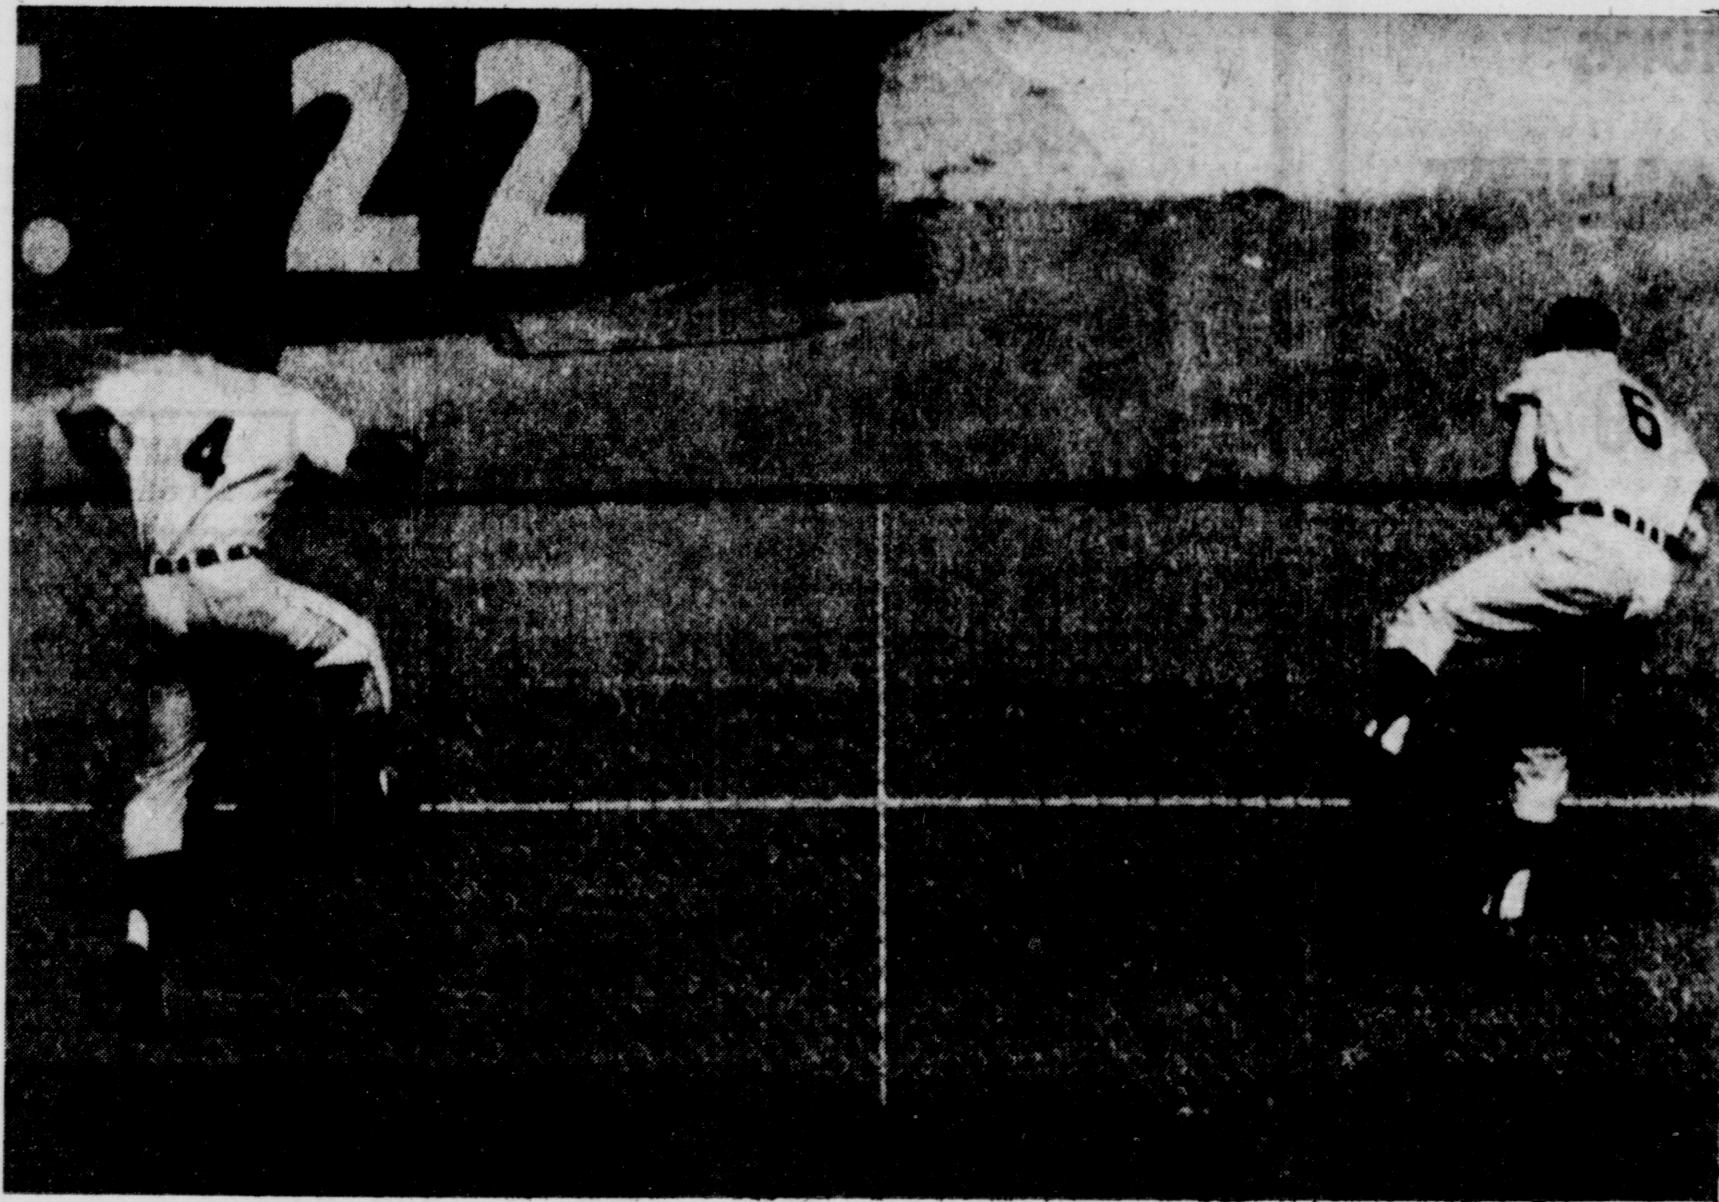

OTTAWA (AP)—End Mack Yoho, a placement specialist, was cut from the Ottawa Rough Riders roster today by Coach Frank Clair. Yoho, 23, scored 34 points for the Riders last year after joining the club from Miami of Ohio in 1957.

pound tackle, but figures the loss of the all-star may result in just an "average" season.

Osterling bulled his way to 15 touchdowns last season while gaining 1,473 yards in one of the most outstanding performances in the area.

Beginning his fifth year, Mancuso will rely on eight lettermen among a squad of 36 to better his 1957 record of 4-4-1.

Among the returnees is an outstanding lineman in Joe Sevenich, an 180-pounder who will go at offensive left guard and defensive linebacker. Underclassmen are due for lots of action, the Bears' coach indicated.

Leetonia has been drilling for the Sept. 18 opener at Wellsville and three scrimmages games with Youngstown Chaney, Salem and Beaver Local have resulted in several injuries to key men. However, none are considered serious, Mancuso said.

Overall, the Bears will be lighter on the forward wall than last year and will have about the same speed at all backfield positions.

Bill Little, the husky converted tackle, is being groomed for Osterling's fullback spot. Terry Tilley, a fair passer and letterman, will be the starting quarterback in the Sept. 11 grid preview at Patterson Field against East Liverpool.

Halfback positions will be filled by Bob Gullett, 155-pound letterman, and Dave Pirigyi, a 150-pounder from last year's second string. Dave Macry, a co-captain with Sevenich, will see defensive action only in the preview game, Mancuso said.

As expected, Mancuso will use his heaviest men at the tackle positions. Carl Stecker, 190 pounds, will draw the left side assignment, and Vern Marshall, 220-pound letterman, will be at right tackle.

Mancuso listed his ends and guards as exceptionally light in Jim Stelts, 155, and Bob Scullion, 145, ends, and Sevenich and Bob Hinchliffe, 145, guards.

Charles (Sonny) Liston, who is ranked third among the world's heavyweight contenders, has fists that measure 14½ inches.

Pan-American Events Concluded At Chicago

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The third Pan-American Games, orphaned early and often maligned, has ended its 12-day run on a note of triumph.

In the overall picture, Chicago did a fine job on short notice. The city took the games two years ago when Cleveland gave them up for financial reasons. This is not enough time for such a massive, complex operation.

The United States' deeply manned squads did better than expected in romping off with the lion's share of honors.

Uncle Sam's standard-bearers ended the competitive phase of the games in the same victorious

West Virginia Coach Pleased By Fine Group Of Freshmen

JACKSON'S MILL, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia Coach Art Lewis says this year's freshman football team looks to be one of the finest crop of recruits he has ever gotten.

"As a whole, these boys represent the best recruiting job I have done," he said.

In all, there are 58 boys, including 18 from western Pennsylvania, on this year's freshman group. Asked how he got the Pennsylvanians to come to Morgantown, Lewis replied:

"Some of these boys believe West Virginia is their alma mater." The freshmen gave a fine performance yesterday while losing to the varsity 26-0 in a practice game, highlight of Press Day activities here.

One of the WVU coaches declared that at least five freshmen would stand a good chance of making the varsity if they were eligible. Among the outstanding prospects, on the basis of his showing so far, is halfback Jim (Shorty) Moss of Huntington. Moss ran particularly well in the practice game.

The varsity was forced to go to the air to score two of its touchdowns. One came on a 65-yard pass from quarterback Danny Williams to halfback Ray Peterson.

On the second, Williams threw to fullback Tom Huston in a play good for 55 yards.

The other touchdowns resulted from a 70-yard pass interception by third-string halfback Eli Kosanovich and a 60-yard march by the No. 2 team.

West Virginia's place kicker, Johnny Thackston, made two of his four extra point tries. Of the other two, one was blocked and the second missed.

Lewis worked his third team ovpattern in which they started them in mammoth Soldier Field.

The equestrian team of Hugh Wiley, Towson, Md., Frank Chappell, Wallpack, N.J., George Morris, New Canaan, Conn., and Bill Steinkraus of Westport, Conn., captured the colorful Prix Des Nations team title, last championship to be contested in the games.

Over-all the U.S.A. overwhelmed the other 23 competing nations with a huge bag of 121 gold medals, 72 silver and 52 bronze medals. Argentina was next with 9 gold, 22 silver, and 12 bronze.

Other gold medal winners were Brazil 8, Canada 7, Mexico 6, Chile 5, Cuba, West Indies Federation and Bahamas 2 each, and Venezuela and Uruguay 1 each.

Trombold Retains 2 Tennis Titles

EAST PALESTINE — Robert Trombold, an office employee at the Adamson Co. here, successfully defended both the Columbiana County and East Palestine singles tennis titles over the weekend.

Trombold defeated William Lynch of East Palestine 12-10 and 6-3 in the city matches. This is the third consecutive year he has won the city title.

At the county tournament held at Salem, Trombold defeated Ralph Martin 6-3 and 6-3, retaining the championship won last year.

Seixas Pulls Tennis Upset

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Vic Seixas, at 36, is getting to be a graybeard in the tennis wars.

"But," said the seven-time Davis Cupper today, "my age has nothing to do with my performance. I certainly don't feel my advancing age."

Ramanathan Krishnan, the big Indian who licked Alex Olmedo twice this year, would agree. Seeded No. 5 in the national championships, Krishnan went down before Seixas' cutting strokes in the second round Monday, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Seixas is a securities salesman in Philadelphia and has been sticking close to his job since he gave up the tournament trail two years ago. His next opponent is National Clay Courts champion Ted Barten.

"If Vic gets past Barten, who licked Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, he will face the winner of the Barry McKay-Bob Mark match. McKay turned back Crawford Henry of Atlanta, 6-3, 8-6, 7-5 while Mark, an Australian Davis Cupper, ousted Ronald Barnes of Brazil, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

Except for the downfall of Krishnan, there were no startling form reversals as the round of 16 was filled.

Olmedo of Los Angeles turned back Straight Clark of Radnor, Pa., 3-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2, and second-seeded Neale Fraser, Australia's one-man gang, whipped England's Bobby Wilson, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4. Rod Laver of Australia, No. 4, eliminated Robert Siska of San Francisco, 7-5, 9-7, 4-6, 6-4, while Luis Ayala of Chile, No. 6, dropped Larry Nagler of North Hollywood, Calif., 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, No. 7, advanced at the expense of Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, and Roy Emerson of Australia, No. 8, sent Harry Hoffmann Jr. of Philadelphia to the sidelines, 6-2, 6-0, 6-0.

Mary Levy, head football coach at the University of New Mexico and a 1950 graduate of Iowa's Coe College, is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary society.

Chicago Wins Two To Keep 4½ Out Front

By The Associated Press
With 18 games to play, the Cleveland Indians are 4½ games behind the first place Chicago White Sox.

After dropping the opener of that last-chance series at Chicago 3-2 Friday night — their fifth straight loss to the White Sox — the Injuns unloaded three home runs and beat the Sox 6-5 Saturday, then took Sunday's finale 2-1 on Vic Power's two-run double in the ninth.

Sunday they were still at it, pulling off a pair of three-run, ninth-inning comebacks for a 15-14 and 6-5 sweep over the Detroit Tigers while the White Sox took two from Kansas City, 2-1 and 13-7.

The White Sox, getting a lift with the return of southpaw Billy Pierce in the opener against the A's, now have 17 games to play and their magic number is 14. Any combination of Chicago victories and Cleveland defeats totaling 14 gives the Sox their first flag in 40 years.

New York blew a chance to regain third place from Detroit as Boston wallowed the Yanks 12-4 with Don Buddin, winning pitcher Jerry Casale and Pumpsie Green getting together for a record-tying three consecutive home runs. Baltimore split with Washington, winning 7-0 as southpaw Billy O'Dell gave up just four hits for his second shutout in a row, then losing 8-1 when Jim Lemon's two-run triple got the Senators rolling for seven runs with two out in the 10th.

The Indians, down 5-2, 6-4, 12-4 and then 14-12 when Eddie Yost hit his second home run of the opener in the seventh inning for the Tigers, finally put away the first game on Jim Piersall's two-run single. Jim Bunning (15-11), last of four Detroit pitchers, was the loser after winning six in a row, while Larry Locke (13-2) won it as the last of eight Tribe hurlers.

Yost's homers, giving him a total of 21, were just two of seven in the game. The Tigers hit four of them, with Frank Bolling (12) and Lew Berberet (13) getting the other pair. The Indians hammered three—Rocky Colavito's 40th, Tito Francona's 19th and Woody Held's 28th.

Ted Lepcio's three-run homer gave the Tigers a 5-2 lead in the night-cap seventh. The Tribe got one in the seventh on a bases-loaded walk, and then did it again in the ninth—on Colavito's bases-loaded single, a wild pitch and Power's sacrifice fly. Mike Garcia (3-5), who started the first game, was the winner, with Pete Burnside (1-3) the loser, also in relief.

Ted Kluszewski did the big job for the White Sox. His single led to two first-game runs in the third inning against Ned Garver (9-12), and then he belted in five runs in the second game with two homers and a sacrifice fly.

Pierce, out with a hip injury since Aug. 15, gave up five hits, walked one and struck out two in his seven innings. He gave up the A's run when Joe DeMaestri homered in the fifth. Turk Lown saved it making the White Sox 32-11 in one-run decisions.

Gerry Staley (8-3) bagged the second game in relief of Barry Latman. Al Smith and Jim Rivera also homered for the Sox, each clubbing his shot along with Klu's first in a six-run third that beat reliever Dick Tomanek (0-1).

Bad Shoulder Will Sideline Tiger Griddler

An injury during a practice drill Saturday morning is not expected to sideline Wellsville High School's hard-running fullback Bob Delposen for any extensive period.

Delposen, leading scorer and ground gainer for the Tigers last season, dislocated his shoulder during a scrimmage game with Steubenville Catholic Central at Nicholson Stadium.

Coach Ken Woods said his star runner in all probability will miss the Sept. 11 football preview of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club in an abbreviated contest against Columbiana.

However, Delposen said he was advised by his doctor that the injury would be mended enough for him to be in the starting lineup when Wellsville opens its regular season competition Sept. 18 with Leetonia.

It was the third such injury for Delposen in his high school career. He dislocated his shoulder twice during his sophomore year. Wellsville won the scrimmage game by a touchdown. Central failed to score.

Liverpool Driver Holds 5th Place At Speedway

Tom Lewis of East Liverpool is in fifth place in the point race at the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway in Clinton, with only two more Friday nights of racing left for the modified drivers.

Lewis shows 191 points and is trailing the fourth-place driver, Frank Stambol of Pittsburgh, who has 263 points.

A regular card of events is planned Sept. 11, but the season for Friday night races will wind up Sept. 18. A 100-lap season championship feature is planned Sept. 18.

Racing will continue at the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway every Sunday afternoon for the balance of the season. Starting time for the Sunday racing will move up to 3 p. m. effective Sept. 13.

Braves Battle Way Back Into Pennant Race

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Have the Milwaukee Braves finally blasted off? With three weeks left and each of the three contenders down to their last 17 games, any kind of a streak could crack the National League race wide open.

The Braves have won three in a row.

The champs, pennant scrap veterans, did it with Juan Pizarro beating Cincinnati 6-2 Sunday and Lew Burdette (19-14) and Bob Buhl (12-9) collecting 5-1 and 4-1 victories over Pittsburgh in the NL's only Labor Day doubleheader.

That jumped Milwaukee into a second-place tie with Los Angeles but left them three games behind first-place San Francisco. The Giants, backing right-hander Sam Jones for his 19th victory, beat St. Louis 4-2, while the Dodgers whipped Chicago's Cubs 7-1 in the only night game scheduled.

Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati 6-4 in the other NL game on Dave Philley's two-run homer in the ninth.

The Braves, winning four of their last five in a run for a third straight pennant, beat the Bucs and Bob Friend (8-17) on Hank Aaron's two-run 38th homer in the first inning. Rookie Lee Maye and Del Crandall added solo homers, Maye's first in the majors and Crandall's 18th of the year.

The second game also was decided in the first inning. The Pirates tagged Buhl for their run, then were handed their third straight loss and sixth setback in seven games when the Braves scored three off Bennie Daniels (7-9). A wild pitch with the bases loaded and Joe Adcock's two run single did it.

The Giants won their 15th from the Cards in 19 games after Curt Flood's solo homer gave St. Louis a 2-0 lead in the fourth inning. Two runs in the sixth put it away against rookie Bob Gibson (1-5) with Orlando Cepeda's single breaking a 2-2 tie.

Southpaw Johnny Podres (13-8) gave the Dodgers a share of second place with a six-hit effort. He struck out 14, clicking off six in a row after the Cubs had loaded the bases with one out in the first inning.

The Dodgers, who broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth when Maury Wills walked, stole second and scored on Junior Gilliams' single, beat Bob Anderson (11-10) for the first time in five decisions this year. They made it a breeze with four runs in the seventh, two on John Roseboro's triple, and another in the eighth on Gil Hodges' 23rd homer.

Althea Gibson To Head
Tour Of Female Net Stars

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—

The worst kept secret around the

National Tennis Championships is that Althea Gibson will turn pro

within the next couple of weeks and take a handful of prominent women players with her.

One she won't get is Wimbledon champion Maria Bueno of Brazil, who said firmly today, "I'm not interested—not for six or seven years."

The new pro tour, with no Jack

Kramer connection, is to be an all-female cast with the world as a stage. It's hoped there will be at least six girls playing on a bonus basis for prize money.

The tour will hit centers in the United States, also perform in Europe and Australia.

Althea isn't talking yet. A well-known magazine publisher is reported to be one of the financial backers of the project.

Among the players considered for the tour are Britain's Christine Truman, Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., runnerup for the Wimbledon title the last two years; Karol Fageros of Miami,

Fla.; Sandra Reynolds and Renee

Schuurman, the attractive tennis

twins of South Africa.

Steelers Cut Vet

And Two Rookies

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (AP)—The

Pittsburgh Steelers cut one veteran and two rookies Monday to bring their roster down to 42, one under the maximum permitted by the National Football League.

Coach Buddy Parker asked

waivers on halfback Dick Christy,

NFL sophomore from North Carolina State, and tackle John Perkins of Mississippi Southern and quarterback Jack Stephens of Holy Cross.

During scrimmage Monday,

Parker gave Tom Barnett of Purdue a crack at the offensive backfield in the flanker post. Previously, the top draft pick of 1959

was used exclusively as a safetyman.

In winning, Finsterwald brought his Ryder Cup points to 1,040. This boosted him ahead of Art Wall

J.R., Pocono Manor, Pa., who came into the tourney with 1,037-

1.3 points and didn't pick up anything here. Wall shot his final round in 71 and finished with 283.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—

George W. Van Camp of Circle-

ville, Ohio, came on fast in the stretch and won the $34,000 Kentucky-Free-All Trot in track record time at Brandywine Raceway.

Listed on the freshmen roster

of the Missouri school are John

Schmidt, 5-10, 130 pounds, son of

Herman Schmidt of Georgetown,

and Quentin Schmidt Jr., 160-

pound end, son of Quentin Schmidt of Hookstown.

Cecil Allison, a sophomore letteman, is a guard candidate. Son

Browns Seen

Ready To Go

At Most Spots

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' offense and defense are just about set although the opening of the National Football League season still is nearly three weeks away.

Right tackle on offense, which originally figured to be one of the club's strong points, is the lone exception. The problem there was created by Mike McCormack's knee injury in one of the first practices at Hiram College.

After surgery, McCormack began to do some running on the

Browns' recent trip to the West

Coast and is continuing a weightlifting program to build up his leg

muscles. He may test the knee

when the Chicago Bears visit

Cleveland for an exhibition game

Sept. 19.

Willie Davis, second-year man

from Grambling College, and

Francis O'Brien, a high draft choice from Michigan State, are working at McCormack's position.

They have played about equal time in the Browns' four pre-season game and probably will share

the duties again Sunday against the Lions in Detroit.

Bench strength is another problem confronting Coach Paul

Brown and his staff. Among questions to be answered are who will be the extra defensive back, the extra offensive end, the third defensive end and Jim Brown's understudy at fullback.

Dodger Pitchers

Set New Record

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If the

Los Angeles Dodgers accomplish

nothing else this year, they'll leave the major leagues a strikeout record that will take an awful lot of swinging to topple.

Until this season, no major league pitching staff had accounted for more than 896 strikeouts in a season. The Detroit Tigers set that record back in 1946.

The Dodgers stand 45 strikeouts ahead of that total today.

8) made the latest major contribution Monday night when he fanned 14 while the Dodgers were beating Chicago 7-1 and pulling into a second place tie with Milwaukee.

Sandy Koufax tied the modern major league record for a single game when he fanned 18 San Francisco hitters last week, and he set 10 down on strikeouts his last time out. Another Dodger hand, Don Drysdale, leads both leagues with 211 strikeouts.

Harry Keys Suffers Injury In Farm Tractor Accident

A city businessman, hurt in a tractor accident on his farm, was admitted Monday to City Hospital, along with a Wellsville man and a city woman hurt in falls. Eleven others were treated at the hospital after holiday mishaps.

Harry B. Keys, 73, of 729 Mayberry Ln. is in "fair" condition today with possible fractures of the pelvis and ribs suffered when a tractor ran over him at his farm near Clarkson. He is owner of the Keys Co., wholesale auto equipment concern.

Chester Thornton, 42, of 1421 Center St., Wellsville, a Pennsylvania Railroad Co. employee, is in "fairly good" condition with injuries of the right hip received in a fall at home.

Mrs. Minnie Harvey, 1060 Smithfield St., is in "fair" condition today with a laceration of the scalp suffered in a fall at home. She was admitted last night at 7:30. While walking in a creek yesterday, Marvin Lovejoy, 6, son of Mrs. Anna Lovejoy of Price St. Ext., stepped on glass and suffered a laceration of the foot.

Jerry Hanna, 11, son of Mrs. Marcella Hanna, 1023 Ohio Ave., was treated for a fractured collarbone suffered while swimming.

While playing under a table, Debra Urie, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Urie of Louisiana Ave., Chester, suffered a cut leg.

Mrs. Frances Vana, 623 Jackson St., was treated for a possible fractured wrist received in a fall from a stepladder.

Gordon Coil, 20, of Westfield was treated yesterday morning for a cut of the right hand suffered while loading a boxcar at the Harker Pottery Co.

3 Autoists Fined $40 In Chester Hearings

Three motorists were fined a total of $40 and costs by Squire Eugene Allison of Chester Monday after they were cited on Route 30 by West Virginia State Police for improper passing.

John P. Bobick of Cleveland and George L. Pirak of Hibbs, Pa., were fined $10 and costs each, and Jo Anna Seaton of Uniontown $20 and costs. Police said the woman passed four or five cars on the right side.

Police Cite 18 Over Weekend

Eighteen were cited over the Labor Day weekend by East Liverpool police and the State Highway Patrol for appearance this morning before Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw. Ten were charged with intoxication and the others were accused of miscellaneous offenses — mostly traffic violations.

Donnie Leon Gillespie, 20, of New Cumberland R. D. 2, accused of reckless driving after his auto nearly overturned at 8:10 p. m. Sunday at Harvey Ave. and Putnam St., was given a 30-day suspension of his right to drive in Ohio. Gillespie also was ordered to pay the $6 costs. He pleaded guilty.

Police reported Gillespie made the turn at the Klondyke intersection at a high rate of speed, nearly causing his auto to upset onto the sidewalk. The court indicated leniency was shown the youthful driver because his right leg is in a brace and he uses two canes to walk.

Helene A. Maistros, 28, of 1323 St. Clair Ave. forfeited a $31 bond on a charge of operating an auto without a driver's license. She was cited after a collision at St. Clair Ave. and Walnut St. Sunday afternoon.

Herman Arthur Pinnell of Toronto forfeited a $20 bond on a charge of unsafe operation. He was cited Sunday afternoon on Route 30 by the State Highway Patrol while driving a new truck and towing another.

Edward H. Unger, 2152 Crawford Ave., forfeited $11 for crashing a traffic light at Pennsylvania and Dewey Aves. at 4:55 p. m. Saturday. Robert Eagle, 410 E. 3rd St., cited by the patrol Friday night for speeding on Route 7, forfeited a $15 bond.

Joyce Downard of Dewey Ave., cited by the patrol Aug. 23 on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way, forfeited a $16 bond. She was cited at the intersection of Routes 30 and 170.

Beauty Contests Hit

'Jane Doe' Is Sought For False Fire Alarm

A "Jane Doe" warrant has been issued for the arrest of a woman who phoned a false fire alarm to the Chester fire department Monday.

Twelve fireman and a truck went to the home of William Williams of Washington School Rd. yesterday about noon after a woman reported a grass fire was threatening the home.

Firemen found no fire and the family was not at home, according to Fire Chief Raymond Gibbs. An open warrant was obtained from Squire Eugene Allison by sheriff's deputies, who are investigating.
